New Nov. 7 Mark at 77

All records for November 7 were broken today when the mercury here touched 77 at 1 p. m.

The all-time high for November is 78, reached on November 19, 1881.

Yesterday's record of 73 broke the previous high for November 6-71 on November 6, 1881. Saturday's 75 likewise broke the November 5 record—72 in 1895.

Continued mild weather is promised for tomorrow, election day, but with increasing cloudiness, turning to rain tomorrow night. Wednesday will be "much colder."

DENVER, Nov. 7 (AP)—A wintry aerial of low temperatures, snow, sleet and cold was turned today on a region extending from Missouri and Kansas southwest to New Mexico and the Oklahoma panhandle, with the brunt of the attack thrust at the Rocky Mountain region.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7 (AP)—Wind, whipping the Southern California coastline at velocities up to 70 miles an hour, left damaged orchard crops, wrecked small boats and battered communication lines in its wake today.

Those state workers who had not to date overcome their disappointment over Governor Hurley's defeat by Curley in the primary, have become alarmed over a sweep of state jobs in the event that Saltonstall is elected, it was learned.

Important news today, too, was the appearance of many of the Hurley key workers in the primary on the list of those who are working out of Curley campaign headquarters.

DELANEY FOR CURLEY

Among the more prominent of these are John Lacey Delaney and Raymond Fitzgerald of Cambridge, both prominently identified with Governor Hurley's victorious campaign in 1936 and in the primary this year.

Delaney is remembered as Governor Hurley's adviser on personnel, whose survey of state jobs in 1936 brought the Republican charge—and Delaney's denial—that he was Governor Hurley's "axe man."

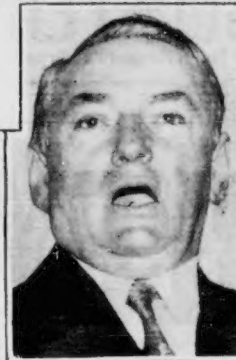

Fitzgerald, now connected with the State Department of Education, is well known as one of Governor Hurley's chief advisers. Any number of other former Hurley workers have joined the

First Lady Speeds Home to Vote

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt cut short a planned visit here today to make certain she arrived in New York in time to vote in tomorrow's general election.

Arriving on an airliner at 8:25 a. m., today, the First Lady chatted about 30 minutes with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt of Fort Worth, and then took off for the East. She had planned to remain here until 6:25 p. m. today.

Tight Race In N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (AP)

—The answer to the question of New Deal strength in President Roosevelt's home state today lay somewhere between widely-varying victory claims advanced by Democratic and Republican leaders.

The lull between campaign strife and tomorrow's ballot storm was broken by predictions of such extraordinary disparity as to leave political prognosticators wondering.

Democratic National and State Chairman James A. Farley predicted Governor Herbert L. Lehman would be re-elected by a plurality of at least 250,000 votes.

Republican State Chairman William S. Murray predicted District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey would be elected governor by a plurality of at least 268,000 votes.

Farley estimated Lehman's minimum plurality in New York city at 650,000.

VERONICA "RONNIE" GEDEON
One of Robert Irwin's Three Murder Victims

Ronnie's Killer Dazed at Trial

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—In a heavily-guarded courtroom, Robert Irwin, the "mad sculptor" who murdered the beautiful young artists' model, "Ronnie" Gedeon, and two others, was placed on trial for his life today.

Irwin, specifically charged with the slaying of Frank Byrnes, a roomer in the Gedeon home, entered the courtroom with a queer expression on his pale face. He was escorted by two armed guards.

His mouth was agape, and his squinty eyes roamed around the room without seeming to notice anything in particular. He sat down at defense table and leaned forward in a hunched, nervous manner. A few minutes later he relaxed, leaned back and yawned a number of times.

ALL SKIN AND BONES

Irwin, who has been in the Tombs for more than a year and a half, was so thin his clothes hung loosely about him. The bones showed back of his ears, and his face had a prison pallor. He wore an Oxford grey suit with a white pin stripe, a blue and white shirt and a blue tie.

He is 39, of medium height, with brown wavy hair, and anything but the sleek type. He is ordinary looking, unprepossessing. It is the man who confessed that in Easter eve, 1937, he went to the Gedeon home and after an argument strangled Mrs. Mary Gedeon, 54.

Four hours later—about 3 a. m.—he strangled 20-year-old Ronnie when she awoke home.

"Then he tip-toed into a nearby room where Byrnes, the hapless boarder, was sleeping and stabbed him to death with an ice pick.

The prosecution elected to try him for the murder of Byrnes because they believe they can prove the killing showed premeditation.

UNDER HEAVY GUARD

Irwin was conveyed to the supreme court building in a prison van under heavy guard. He arrived in the courtroom at 10:25 a. m., a few minutes after Judge James G. Wallace ascended the bench.

The courtroom was packed with at least 2000 talesmen, from which a "blue ribbon" jury will be picked. A call for jurors wishing to be excused for "legal reasons" resulted in fully 50 men flocking toward the judge's bench to present excuses.

The talesmen showed more interest in Irwin than he did in them. Many of the prospective jurors stared at the young defendant, who seemed oblivious of their presence. Now and then Irwin stole a glance at the large battery of newspapermen present.

2 OTHER NAMES

Defense Attorney Leibowitz made a motion challenging the entire panel of 250 talesmen because, he declared, women had been ex-

She left Creedon in 1934, later divorcing him on grounds of cruelty.

Today's award to Creedon was made in a verdict returned in sealed form Friday night by a Suffolk Superior Court jury.

'The Hot Rock'

By P. F. REED
(Ex-convict recently released from Alcatraz)
Copyright, 1938, by N. E. Newspaper Publishing Co.

The lawyer said "if." I guess he couldn't believe that one con out of every ten on Alcatraz goes nuts.

A psychiatrist, one of those bug doctors, has said that Jimmy Lucas isn't just right, but still isn't insane, and a mouthpiece asks him:

"If it appears that out of a group of 250 or 300 prisoners, about 10 per cent have gone insane, how would that influence your opinion?"

The bug doctor, using language, says:

"It would make me suspect something, either in the constitution of the men or in the treatment of the men—that there was either a high ratio of sub-standard constitutions on the one hand, or over-zealous discipline on the other."

"Sub-standard constitutions and over-zealous discipline" is right, if they mean that some guys are nuts before they reach The Rock, and others can't stand up under the kind of planned hell The Rock dishes up for them 24 hours a day.

Of course, I'm not one of those psychiatrists, but I've studied The Rock's system from the inside and watched what it does to cons for more than four years.

I say the lawyer's estimate of 10 per cent is too low. Besides dozens of cons who just aren't smart, I know of 38 who seem taut as bedbugs.

When I tell you that the high number on The Rock is 463, you can see why I say 10 per cent is too low.

"TOUGHEST STR"
And it doesn't need the bug doctor's "over-zealous discipline" to drive them nuts, either; the ordinary day-by-day routine does all right by itself.

It's by far the toughest of any str in America. If the guy who doped it out was aiming for a system to make cons do time strictly on their nerves, he scored a bullseye.

BED AN IRON SHEL

It puts you to bed on an iron shelf, and it blows fog horns and clangs bell-booms in your ears all night, and if you can sleep through that, it arranges for screws to wake you up every hour by shining a flashlight in your face as they make the hourly count.

It gets you out of this restless doze promptly at 6:30 a. m. by ringing the kind of bell that puts your teeth and your nerves on edge. It blows whistles to bring you to attention for the morning count, and to bring you out of your cell and to march you to breakfast.

It sets you down in a mess-hall that has every modern convenience for wrecking a man's digestion and nerves. Even if the grub was the best in the world, which of course it isn't, it couldn't taste good or set right.

BOMBS ALWAYS READY

All the time you're putting away your dry bread and sugarless cereals and dried fruit, you're too conscious of what's over your head.

You're under a constant strain. Even if you don't lock, you know that big bombs are in their racks in the ceiling, and that the screws on the catwalk outside just has to put down his machine guns and turn a key to drop those bombs in your lap.

You don't know, you've been told, that those bombs are full of tear-gas and vomit gas that rips your insides out.

WHAT WILL OTHERS DO?

You do know that never, under any circumstances, are you going to make a move that will make that screw turn the key.

But you keep wondering—and that's where the strain comes—and what's where the strain comes—just when some dingbat at your table is going to let out a whoop and throw a winding, and get you a lapful of bombs.

Just to show you what I mean, I'll tell you about my table, which, like all others in the mess hall, seated ten cons. Four of them were definitely nuts.

There was Cecil Snow, who had tried to hang himself, and Lambert, who had slashed his wrists, and Harmon Waley, the Weyerhaeuser kidnaper, who had tried both stunts and was working on a third.

NEW DISEASE DAILY

Then there was a dude whose name and number I don't remember who was harmless but peety. He used to collect one new disease and a half dozen new symptoms every day.

With goes like that all around you and gas bombs above you, you sit on the edge of your bench too jittery to cry about the supreme contribution of The Rock to American penology—the silence.

"The Hot Rock,"
Another True
Alcatraz Story

There is a place . . .
Where life stands so still you can actually watch the slow disintegration of men's minds . . .

Where you can see them draw closer and closer to the brink of madness . . .

Where every day is like every other day and in the torturing drip of time you can see their hard bodies grow soft and sodden . . .

This place—this hell-on-earth—is an island of rock in San Francisco Bay.

It is Alcatraz.

Only a prisoner who has endured its horror could tell the story of this place.

Such a man is P. F. Reed, released from Alcatraz only a few weeks ago and whose remarkable factual story, "Murder on Alcatraz," created a nationwide sensation.

He has another true story to tell—"The Hot Rock."

Here it is!

or dummy-up system, found in no other mess hall in any other sit in the country.

ALWAYS SILENCE

It's very simple. It merely says to the cons:

"Don't talk; shut up; keep your trap closed, except for eating purposes."

That means you don't ask the con at the other end of the table to pass the coffee; you try to catch his eye and signal him.

It means you don't ask for a clean fork, but raise your hand to attract the guard. It sure cuts a grown man a new frock every time he raises his hand like a kid in primary school who wants to ask teacher.

And, of course, the dummy-up system means there's no sparkling table conversation. As a matter of fact, The Rock's regulations give you exactly 10 minutes—five after breakfast and five after the noon meal—in which to get your day's talking over with—except on Saturday or Sunday.

NO TALKING IN CELLS

You can't talk in your cell and you can't talk while at work, except in connection with your work. (That's what the rule book says) but a lot of conversation goes on in the shops that hasn't anything to do with laundry or rubber mats or sewing machines, even the guards can't stop that.

The system that gives you 10 minutes a day for talking just about fixes it so you haven't anything to talk about—unless you can whip yourself into a frenzy over the stupid prison soft-ball games during recreation periods on Saturday afternoons and Sunday mornings.

What else is there to talk about? You don't get any newspapers and

Gives Up Baby 'Held' for $94

WESTPORT, Conn., Nov. 7.—Ten-months-old Betty Lou Franco, the subject of a prolonged adoption fight, was returned to her mother, Mrs. Marcel van der Werken, today and taken to New York by the mother and her new step-father.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown, one of two childless couples who sought unsuccessfully to adopt the baby, gave Betty Lou, for whom they had been caring, into custody of Howell F. Fuller, director of the Westport Department of Welfare, and Fuller in turn gave the child to its mother.

FLED WITH BABY

Yesterday, Mrs. Brown had refused to give up the baby unless she were paid $94.95 allegedly spent on the child.

When Betty Lou's mother admitted she didn't have the money, the baby was snatched from her arms by Mrs. Brown, who ran with the crying infant to a waiting auto. Surrendering little Betty Lou today, Mrs. Brown explained:

"I could not stand it any longer. I think it's an awful shame. The Van der Werken haven't even a home, or an apartment, to take this baby to."

DID NOT GET MONEY

She said she did not receive the $94.

A court order denied the Browns and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Buttery the privilege of adopting Betty Lou, born out of wedlock.

Betty Lou's mother was married last week in Elton, Md., after Van der Werken, a New York chauffeur, proposed by mail without first having seen his bride.

"I want to care for her and give the baby a home," he explained.

10,000 Phony Sweeps Tickets Seized by U. S.

Ten thousand allegedly phony sweepstakes tickets are in the hands of postoffice inspectors today with information which they say will smash a ring running the tickets in from Canada and peddling them along the Atlantic seaboard.

The agents charge that $1,000,000 worth of tickets have already been distributed from New York City, Saratoga and Albany, key points in the chain.

They are of $1 denomination, and are counterfeits of those issued by the "Quebec Unit, Army and Navy Veterans association," the draw to be based on the running of the Manchester Handicap next November 26.

The tickets were seized in a car with a Vermont license in a surprise raid at Winooki, Vt., by Postal Inspectors John J. Breslin and Tennyson Jefferson. The car and driver were held. The man's identity was not revealed.

The distribution plan, according to the postal men, called for extensive mailing of phony tickets from the cities, returns to be made to an allegedly phony name at a spurious address in Montreal.

The tickets are in books of seven, two of which were to be kept free by the seller. Postal men promised other arrests.

Count In Jail Hearing

The man who called himself "Count Gustav von Friedreich zu Brandenburg," was given a chance in the Charles street jail today to show cause why he should not be deported, as immigration officials opened a hearing into his status as an alien.

The "count," who said he is a count only if the Kaiser Wilhelm II. is still Emperor of Germany, claims to be a Danish citizen. But his claim, immigration officials charge, is false.

Today's hearing was ordered after Denmark disclaimed him. He has no passport, claiming to have lost it. The specific charge is that he entered the country illegally in 1923 aboard the liner Reliance.

His troubles began when William F. Hanachumacher, wealthy packer, charged to police that the count had swindled him of $30,000.

The "count" denied the charge, asserting the money was advanced to him in exchange for notes, and that his benefactor knew some time ago that he could not pay. He is in jail in lieu of $40,000 bail while awaiting trial on larceny charges.

Red Cross Plans Record Roll Call

Confident that its value to the community was re-emphasized by service performed at the time of the recent New England flood and hurricane, the American Red Cross looked forward today to a record annual roll call, beginning Armistice Day.

Before the drive for new members and additional funds is over, Thanksgiving Day, this year's goal of 60,000 enrollment and $125,000 in contributions will have been reached, leaders feel.

Chairman Ralph Lowell of the Boston Metropolitan chapter, A. R. C., issued a public appeal today for support of the roll call.

Form New Italian Division for Spain

BARCELONA, Nov. 7 (AP).—The government's foreign minister charged today that Italians have formed a new division, known as the Green Arrows, to fight in Spain and that German naval bases aided the recent insurgent attacks on government ships in the North Sea.

Julio Alvarez del Vayo told newspapermen the new Italian division was in addition to increases in Italians aiding the insurgents which the government reported last week in a note to Great Britain.

Official Records of Boston Police Dept. Prove: No Monopoly in Taxicab Business

OUT OF 454 PUBLIC AND SPECIAL TAXICAB STANDS in Boston, 389 of these are in the hands of Independent Operators. In other words 84% of the taxicab stands in Boston are in the hands of Independents while only 16% are operated by Organized Companies. THIS PROVES CONCLUSIVELY that there is NO MONOPOLY.

No Money Paid for Stands

IN FACT IT IS AGAINST THE LAW to pay for Special Stands on the public highway. Chapter 392 of the Acts of 1930 makes it a criminal offense to pay or receive compensation either directly or indirectly. The character and integrity of Boston Hotel, Hospital and Railroad officials bears testimony as to whether or not they would openly flout the law and commit a FELONY. The answer to this allegation is a firm and emphatic NO.

Nazi Aide Shot By Polish Jew

PARIS, Nov. 7 (AP)—A 17-year-old Polish Jew, declaring he had come to avenge his countrymen who have been expelled from Germany, today shot and gravely wounded a secretary of the German embassy.

The secretary, Ernst Vom Rath, 32-year-old nephew of the late Roland Koester, former German Ambassador to France, was taken to a hospital where he underwent an operation for removal of bullets from his abdomen and shoulder.

The assailant, who gave his name as Herschel Grynszpan, formerly of Hanover, Germany, was captured by embassy attaches after a brief scuffle and handed over to the police.

The embassy spokesman said the youth who fired the shot declared he "wanted to avenge his Polish brethren."

(Germany last week sent back to Poland several thousand resident Polish Jews, fearing new Polish passport regulations might deprive them of citizenship and leave them in Germany as German charges.)

Vom Rath, wounded gravely, was taken to a hospital.

The embassy spokesman charged the youth was "excited by Jews in France." He said the youth,

Roosevelt Sends Soviet Good Wishes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt sent a message of good wishes to President Michael Kalinin, of the All Union Central Executive Committee of the Soviet Union, on the anniversary of the creation of the Soviet Union.

The telegram said: "Upon this national anniversary please accept my felicitations and sincere good wishes for the well-being of the people of your country."

Before opening fire, made a short speech to the secretary telling him he had come to avenge his countrymen.

Soviet Parades Armed Might; Warns Japan

MOSCOW, Nov. 7 (AP)—One million persons marched past Joseph Stalin today in a huge parade through Moscow's Red square celebrating the 21st anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, Soviet Russia's "coming of age."

Stalin, Russia's undisputed leader as secretary-general of the Communist party, stood on top of the tomb of Nikolai Lenin, leader and saint of the revolution, for the review.

The Soviet Union's armed might was displayed. Tens of thousands of picked troops and hundreds of light and heavy tanks—some of which raced across the square at 40 miles an hour—hundreds of war planes took part.

The only speech was that of Klement Voroshiloff, war commissar, who emphasized that Russia was prepared to meet force with force.

"World war is bursting into flame," he said, "but the enemy never will catch us napping."

Vatican Honors Mundelein

ROME, Nov. 7 (INS)—George Cardinal Mundelein, during a 40-minute private audience with Pope Pius XI, today gave the Pontiff a glowing account of the growing strength and influence of the Catholic Church in America, according to well-informed Vatican sources.

The Archbishop of Chicago also reported in detail on the recent Eucharistic Congress in New Orleans.

The Cardinal was authoritatively reported to have broached the possibility of creating a fifth Cardinal to give the United States branch of the church greater representation at the Vatican.

Another honor accorded the American archbishop was the beatification of Maria Giuseppa Rosello. Twenty-one cardinals attended the ceremony, and Mundelein, oldest cardinal present, handed the Pope the holy incense.

Mundelein expects to remain in Rome for an additional 15 days. He was to be honored by Ambassador Phillips at an embassy reception this afternoon.

Turns Light on U. S. Arms Plans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—An emphatic declaration by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, that the United States intends to help defend the entire Western Hemisphere threw new light today on the administration's expanded armament program.

Welles said in an address broadcast throughout the nation and to South America:

"As a nation, we will assure ourselves that we are in a position to defend ourselves from all aggression from whatever source it may arise, and to be prepared to join our fellow democracies of the new world in preserving the Western Hemisphere from any threat of attack."

The United States government already is ensueing its defense.

cluded. Judge Wallace overruled the motion.

The work of selecting the jury then started. Assistant District Attorney Rosenblum addressed the talesmen and outlined essential factors of the crime.

When Rosenblum started to say the defendant was known by an "alias," Leibowitz objected, saying there was no "alias" in this case. Judge Wallace told Rosenblum to say Robert Irwin, "otherwise known as," and the prosecutor then told the talesmen Irwin was also known as "Robert Murdoch" and "Robert Murray."

Rosenblum read a list of the witnesses who "might or might not be called." The list included doctors and psychiatrists. Irwin's indicated defense will be insanity. Also listed as likely to testify was Joseph Gedeon, father of the slain Ronnie, and the dead girl's sister, Mrs. Ethel Kudner.

INSANITY HIS HOPE

Rosenblum asked talesmen to say whether any of them, or members of their families, had ever suffered from a mental illness or had been psycho-analyzed.

Leibowitz then arose and announced:

"We will set up a defense of insanity in this case. We intend to show the defendant is guilty of murder in the first degree."

He read the list of defense witnesses and asked the talesmen to reveal if they knew any of them. A large number of doctors and psychiatrists were also on the defense list.

In questioning a talesman, Leibowitz indicated he intended to show Irwin was emotionally "intoxicated" at the time of the commission of the crime. He explained he meant "not intoxicated by liquor but in a state similar to that he would have been had he been drinking."

Hint Windsors Will Meet Kin

LONDON, Nov. 7 (AP)—The possibility of a reconciliation between the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and the British Royal Family was seen today in the assertion in well informed circles that the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester probably would see the Windsors at Paris Friday.

The former King Edward VIII and his American-born wife are staying at a Paris hotel while a new Paris home is being prepared for them.

The Duke of Gloucester, the ex-King's second younger brother, and his wife are returning from an East African hunting trip.

Spokesmen for railroad management and the 21 powerful brotherhoods will meet here today to begin drafting a far-reaching program designed to stabilize the $26,000,000,000 rail industry.

The committee, named six weeks ago by President Roosevelt, consists of three outstanding rail executives, M. W. Clements of the Pennsylvania, Carl Gray of the Union Pacific and Ernest E. Norris of the Southern, and three labor chieftains, George M. Harrison, D. B. Robertson and E. M. Jewell.

Lay Fatal Crash To Boy Pilot

The pilot's "faulty flying technique" was officially blamed today for the Revere airplane crash which cost the life of Myer Goldman, 18, Malden high school athlete.

Goldman's claim and passenger Benjamin Greenstein, 20, of Willow Grove, Malden, was critically injured today at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Major Clarence A. Hodge, state prosecutor of aviation, will today that Sunday pilot Goldman attempted to climb too steeply, when he was off in his plane.

While investigation of the crash was in progress, State Senator Benjamin L. Sullivan of Chelsea announced he would demand an inquiry into reasons for taking the shortcut the way to Massachusetts General Hospital "when other hospitals were at least three blocks nearer."

"Who's fault it is, I don't know," Senator Sullivan said, "but a penny-pinching policy somewhere apparently outweighs all humane considerations in cases of this sort."

"The police ambulance carrying Goldman and Greenstein drove by the very doors of three hospitals in Chelsea."

G. O. P. Seeks Comeback As Nation Goes to Polls

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The long trail of Democratic landslides and steadily diminishing Republican power in the states and in the nation—unbroken now in four consecutive elections—appeared to be at an end today as the off-year campaign drew to a noisy end.

For tomorrow, as upward of 40,000,000 people go to the polls to elect the 76th Congress and governors in 32 states, the Republicans expect to fight the comeback with their eyes on 1940.

The Senate race in the late fall election will be the first of the year. The House race will be the first of the year. The House race will be the first of the year. The House race will be the first of the year.

some gains tomorrow is conceded, even by the Democrats.

The principal questions are: How much? And where?

The "where" is equally as important as the "how much," perhaps more so. For if New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, for instance, should go Republican it would be deemed of far greater significance than victory in Montana, Nevada and Idaho.

This election has been grounded in a fight over who the voters' eyes riveted on 1940, when a presidency is at stake. Tomorrow is merely the prologue for the show.

SEEK STATE CONTROL

Republicans claim they want to see the more optimistic maintain that they will win a share of 75 to 80 per cent of the House and the Senate.

The more conservative hopes do not go beyond 40 or 50 in the House and four or five in the Senate. The Democrats, off the record, are willing to concede 25 House seats and two or three in the Senate.

From a practical political standpoint, the degree of Republican success tomorrow can be measured in terms of 1940.

It will be a well-known fact that the House race will be the first of the year. The House race will be the first of the year.

of American politics, it is more important for the Republicans to gain in the state governments.

For control in the states means patronage. Patronage means jobs and organization.

The major Democratic losses—if they materialize—are expected in New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Kansas and Iowa.

In New York, the Republicans have been rejuvenated by a young, fighting district attorney, Thomas E. Dewey, who has unexpectedly given Gov. Herbert H. Lehman the fight of his life for re-election.

WAGNER OPPOSITION

The same polls show that Senator Robert F. Wagner, author of much New Deal legislation, is in trouble.

John Lord O'Brien, a veteran Democratic Congressman, is expected to win a hot seat from the bitter May primary, in which a great deal of Democratic dirty linen was washed right out in public.

This, plus grave charges of graft and corruption in the state Democratic administration of Governor George H. Earle, who is seeking to unseat Senator James J. Davis.

In Ohio, there is a nip and tuck fight between Senator Robert J. La Follette and Governor Frank J. La Follette.

In Michigan, Governor Frank Murphy, who President Roosevelt has several times gone to bat for, is facing a hard fight for re-election, opposed by ex-Governor Frank Fitzgerald, whom he defeated two years ago.

In the Far West, the Democrats face the handicap of lowered farm prices. The effect of this is expected to make itself felt in all the grain-belt states. In Kansas and Iowa, in Minnesota and in Wisconsin and Nebraska, the price of farm commodities, plus some dissatisfaction with the new AAA, may have an important bearing.

In the Far West, the Democrats feel more confidence than in the near Mid-West. They believe they have a distinct edge in California and in Oregon.

The Democrats will consider a loss of 25 or 30 seats in the House, or two or three Senate seats, or two or any gains at all a victory.

Election Facts at Glance

Voters will be cast tomorrow for 35 United States senators, 423 members of the House of Representatives; 32 state governors; many lesser state officials. (Maine elected a governor and three representatives in September.)

Present Senate: Democrats 56; Republicans, 42; Farmer-Laborites, 2; Progressive, 1; Independent Republican, 1; one seat now vacant was filled by Democrat.

Ohio Taft Race Clear-Cut Test For New Deal

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7 (AP).—The nation's clearest cut test of the New Deal was furnished today by Ohio's senatorial candidates who touched the combat lines in their campaign for tomorrow's election. While personalities and local issues clouded the vote in other states, Democratic Senator Hubert J. Buckeye and Robert A. Taft, his Republican opponent, battled on plainly pro- and anti-New Deal grounds.

Buckeye, a stand-by of President Roosevelt's administration and praised by him, maintained the clear issue in the New Deal against the old deal.

Taft, Cincinnati son of the late President William Howard Taft, declared that "after experimenting with the New Deal, conditions are no better than when the administration took office." He urged less government "interference" and promotion of private industry.

Observe Big Fire Date Wednesday

Fire Commissioner Warren Arthur Healy announces that the 40th anniversary of the great Boston fire of 1872 will be observed Wednesday evening at Faneuil Hall. Preceding the exercises, the Boston Sparks Organization will hold a dinner. Apparatus and firemen were sent to Boston from as far north as Blaine, Minn.

Farley Predicts Party Sweep

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (INS).—Postmaster-General Farley, Democratic national chairman, today forebaw a sweep for his party in tomorrow's election.

"The next Congress will be overwhelmingly Democratic in both Senate and House; the great majority of states will elect Democratic governors," predicted Farley.

"It would be idle to deny that some members of our party in the House of Representatives will be unseated. . . . We have positive information that a number of seats now held by Republican members of the House will be captured by Democrats. The net loss to our party will be a surprise to the opposition."

The prediction of Representative Joseph W. Martin, chairman of the Republican congressional committee that the G. O. P. would gain 40 seats in the House was termed absurd by Farley.

MAYOR MAURICE J. TOBIN'S

WARNING OF THE DANGER TO BOSTON'S FINANCES FROM THE LOSS OF DOG and HORSE RACING REVENUE!

MAYOR MAURICE J. TOBIN, speaking over the radio on October 24th, on the general subject of taxation had this to say on this point: "... In addition to this increase in city expenses if the old age limit is reduced from sixty-five to sixty years, is the possibility of still another increased expense to the city if the question on the ballot for the repeal of horse and dog racing is passed. If this revenue from horse and dog tracks is no longer available to the State, it will be necessary for the State to raise additional money from possible new sources, not now discernible, or through larger assessments on cities and towns, with this latter method being the most probable. It is estimated that a reduction in the old age limit would mean an additional expense of at least one million dollars annually to the city, and it is also estimated that repeal of the dog and horse track law would mean an additional expense of half a million dollars annually to our city."

BETTING IS NOW
Along several other fronts today the Curley stocks were boosted, and better quotations than were expected in the market last week were given. They at least to-day with Curley supporters counting that they were having trouble in finding Saltonstall names.

In addition to the estimated half million voters that are expected to vote in the election, Curley's campaign has a reputation for a light Republican vote, as it is claimed Republican voters "don't turn out when it rains."

"Much colder" weather is predicted for Wednesday, with a possibility of snow flurries, in sharp contrast to the balmy spring-like weather Boston enjoyed yesterday and today.

Yesterday's high of 75 degrees broke all November 6 records.

It'll Rain Too Late to Stop Voters

Tomorrow — Election Day — will be cloudy and threatening, with rain tomorrow night, but weather forecasters predicted today.

Actual rainfall, however, is not expected until toward evening. Political observers therefore today continued to look for a heavy turnout at the polls. A rainy election day means, usually, a lighter vote — especially, according to some observers, a lighter Republican vote, as it is claimed Republican voters "don't turn out when it rains."

"These Republican plutocrats, with hearts that are cold, callous and indifferent to human rights, are now offering lip service to a liberalism which they do not and cannot understand, practice or perform," Curley said.

"They have wringed their wealth through the sweat of labor and oppression of the women and men in industry. Saltonstall represents the defeat of the advantages made by organized labor and a militant Democratic party."

Urges 'No' Vote on Cab Stand Issue

An appeal to Massachusetts voters to promote law and order and avoid traffic confusion by voting "No" on Question No. 2 on the state ballot tomorrow was made today by the Public Safety League.

The League was supported in its opposition to the proposal to open all taxicab stands in Boston and elsewhere throughout the State by Senator Donald W. Nicholson of Wareham, chairman of the Legislative Committee on Transportation.

"We have a law in this Commonwealth the present system of taxicab operating which a very small group of people would destroy. They would destroy it for selfish reasons, regardless of consequence to public safety. They would destroy it for personal and not public reasons."

"I refer to Referendum No. 2 that will appear on the ballot tomorrow. To this referendum you should say 'NO' in an emphatic manner as to let the entire nation know that Boston and Massachusetts still are firm in the principle of law and order."

Tobey Victory Looms in N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 7. — Republican Governor William W. Tobey today won a decisive victory in the New Hampshire election, defeating his opponent, the Democratic candidate, Governor Charles H. Bell.

Tobey, who had been expected to win, was elected to a second term. He received 54 percent of the vote, while Bell received 46 percent.

Tobey's victory was a significant one, as it marked a return to Republican rule in New Hampshire after a period of Democratic control.

Tobey's campaign was characterized by a strong emphasis on law and order, which resonated with voters in the state.

Vanderbilt May Take R. I. Fight

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 7. — Walter E. O'Hara, ousted head of Narragansett race track, today fought tooth and nail against his arch-rival Governor Robert E. Quinn-Tamm in a three-cornered battle for the governorship which political experts predicted will result in a victory for a Republican William H. Vanderbilt.

It was the famous "Battle of Narragansett" all over again with O'Hara seeking revenge for a loss in the race track a year ago. In Quinn's steel helmeted National Guardmen.

Expect Vt. Vote To Match 1936

RUTLAND, Vt., Nov. 7. — One of the hottest Vermont campaigns in years raged here today with predictions that tomorrow's vote would match that of 1936 when the Presidential fight held the spotlight.

Senator Ernest W. Gibson of Brattleboro (R.), candidate for re-election, has encountered a spirited campaign by John McGee, of Georgia (D). An even closer battle marks the attempt of James D. Leamy of Rutland (D.) to unseat U. S. Representative Charles A. Fowley of Northfield (R.) incumbent of Vermont's only seat in the lower house.

Gov. George D. Allen (R.) took office a year ago today. He has been re-elected to a second term.

Gov. Allen's campaign was characterized by a strong emphasis on law and order, which resonated with voters in the state.

Signs Injunction Halting Hague In War on CIO

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 7 (AP)—The American Labor Union, which has been fighting a long and bitter battle against the CIO, has today secured a victory in the Federal court at Newark, N. J. The court has granted an injunction against the CIO from interfering with the operations of the American Labor Union.

The American Labor Union, which was founded in 1905, has been fighting a long and bitter battle against the CIO, which was founded in 1935. The CIO has been accused of interfering with the operations of the American Labor Union, and of using force and intimidation to achieve its ends.

The court's decision is a significant victory for the American Labor Union, and it is expected that it will lead to a settlement of the dispute between the two unions.

Moon's Eclipse

Millions Await Sunset Show

Youngsters anxious to photograph that total eclipse of the moon scheduled for sundown today should seek out a high rooftop or a lofty mountain.

And with a good view of the east, the total eclipse starts at 4:43 p. m. and lasts until 6:07.

Astronomers say that if the weather remains clear, even amateurs can get memorable pictures. The phenomenon will be one of the grandest natural spectacles of the generation. It will come along as the sun is sinking and the moon rising.

MILLIONS TO WATCH

During most of the time, the moon will be overshadowed by the earth, even as the sun is still visible.

Millions of watchers along the Atlantic seaboard will watch the eclipse.

Dr. H. J. Bok, Harvard astronomer, said today he expected it to be the most thrilling sky show of our time.

Such an eclipse can happen only when the earth is directly between the sun and moon. Astronomers say light is "bent" on earth when such a juxtaposition of planets occurs.

WIDE INTEREST

Watchers on high points will be able to see the moon before it rises above the horizon, and the sun after it has sunk below.

The moon will rise in partial eclipse at 4:43 this afternoon, passing into total eclipse at 4:45.

Astronomers report a tremendous popular interest in the phenomenon and dozens in photographic apparatuses are being sold, particularly in the country.

Sallys Open Last Week of Drive

The last week of the Salvation Army's 1938 appeal for funds opened today with a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce.

Alan Forbes, Colonel Robert E. Goodwin, William A. Noel and Lieutenant Colonel Donald McMillan, New England commander of the Salvation Army.

K. C. Council To Return 'Red' Contribution

Grand Knight Ronald MacDonald of Father John B. DeValle Council, Knights of Columbus, stated today that the council had received a "personal" contribution of $5 from Phil Frankfeld, secretary of the Communist party in Massachusetts, in a recent charity drive.

"We wouldn't have accepted this contribution had we known it came from the Communist party," he added.

"The money will be returned immediately."

Isadore Kramer, commander of Newspapermen's Post of the American Legion, named by Frankfeld as having likewise received Communist contributions, flatly denied any solicitation of funds.

Officials of the Community Chest fund likewise pointed out that if members of the Communist party, as individuals, made contributions to the Community Chest they had no knowledge of their political affiliations.

Frankfeld made much of the fact that "Communist money" has been contributed to the council by the Knights of Columbus and also to the American Legion and the Community Chest fund. Frankfeld made these statements at the Communist rally in Boston Garden.

A speaker with Frankfeld at the Communist rally was Stephen Burke, Harvard student, who, at a press appointment, stated a Communist last spring. Another speaker was Earl Browder.

Burke accused Dean Lusk of Harvard Law school of "helping to maintain in prison" Phil Frankfeld in Cambridge.

Girl Waits Quiz In Shooting

ROCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 7. (AP)—Wounded accidentally by a companion, Rodney Littlefield, 19, of North Berwick, Me., today was in critical condition at Franks Memorial hospital.

A pistol bullet lodged near his right lung.

Dr. Wm. Shuffett Alfred Nutter of North Berwick said the girl was too hysterical to be questioned and that Littlefield was too weak to talk.

The deputy said he was probing two versions of the shooting. One was that the couple were target shooting and the weapon was fired accidentally, and the other that the girl, thinking the pistol unloaded, jokingly pointed it at Littlefield and fired.

$7500 Love Balm Won by Creeden

"Danny" Creeden, the plaintiff, has given a comment.

All three John R. McVey counsel for Hamiltonburg, said.

"That verdict is excessive. I shall ask for a new trial. If necessary, I'll carry an appeal to the Supreme Court."

That of Creeden's suit last week was marked by dramatic testimony and incidents.

Creeden told a harrowing story of his suffering after losing his wife's love.

"I thought the world had turned against me," he testified.

Mrs. Creeden, strikingly attractive in a fashionable black costume, jumped from her seat to shout "There's a lie" when a witness told of seeing her and Hamiltonburg enter Back Bay hotels together after midnight.

Married in 1917, "Danny" and Viola Creeden were for years one of the best known and most popular vaudeville teams on the "three-day" circuit.

There was called the "ideal marriage" of stage business, according to testimony offered in the recent trial.

Often in the "big money," they were also obliged at times to pinch their pennies.

Strangest Thing

The Boston Evening American, Nov. 6, p. 1, col. 1, says: "A boy, riding a big police dog in the center of his bicycle."

They separated in 1932, but patch up their differences and live together again.

At one time "Danny" and Viola were earning $300 a week as an entertainment team.

According to Creeden, he wanted to die after his wife's money left him in 1932. He tried to take his own life and was near a mental breakdown.

He based his alienation suit on the claim that Hamiltonburg, after employing Mrs. Creeden as a singing waitress, lavished money on her and stole her love.

Mrs. Creeden, on the other hand, testified "Danny" himself killed her love by his alleged drinking, gambling, immorality and cruelty.

Both Hamiltonburg and M. A. Creeden denied improper relations.

New York Cavalcade

by Louis Sobol

PORTUGAL. Breath-taking stage name. Yvonne Arden. Chief attraction to the Madison Square.

Now that the nation has been told that Yvonne Arden could have created so much heat and light.

But Carroll, no longer the dreamer of Broadway, southern capital Avenue of Stars.

On a flying visit last week, and perhaps the sting of frustration and disappointment was softened.

When he passed the once-glamorous Ziegfeld candel and found it featuring double movie band.

And the Apollo Theater, where George White's flame of glory blazed, now dedicated to horkyork horky.

But Ziegfeld is gone. White has turned his producing back on Broadway, and Carroll is trying to swing back into pace in far-off Hollywood.

BACK TO NEW YORK, too, has come W. and J. Howard and 15 minutes from Times Square on the fastest subway express he is strutting as it happily, a Zanuck-Mayer-Warner all by himself.

For his cinema production of "Frankie is heading completion in the Astoria studios. Something of Hollywood, thanks to Howard, has returned to New York—and now there is some vague talk that several other productions are to be ground out in the East here.

Some years ago, when the West Coast emira rebelled at excessive California taxation, the threat of a wholesale move to the Atlantic Coast dominated executive buddies for weeks and Jeremy and Long Island tracks began to assemble their papers and list of affidavits.

Nothing came of that, however, and the truth is nothing probably will for there is something about Hollywood's jazz days, palm trees and mercurial love when holds construction under patent spell.

ROBERT L. RIPLEY'S newest baby is feet steps. He has collected these to mount the hangar-ringing from the windows times to a specimen made especially for him when, still, live his whole half feet high.

And I must J. B. Ripley's among the ranks of writers who have taken a temporary detour before the footlights, according to a dispatch from London.

Not that we have neglected in our recent paragraphs, to mention Thornton Wilder who for a time substituted Frank Craven in Our Town.

Occasionally, too, in for the composer of the score of a musical to assume the baton on opening nights.

The late George Gershwin in Richard Rodgers, Jerome Kern, Sigmund Romberg, Harold Rome have at some time or other made their appearance in the circus troupe.

I do not, however, recall that Irving Berlin has ever led the musicians on an opening night—but Berlin did appear on the stage several times—as a paid vaudeville act when the poove hung high over the Palace apron.

Myopia Race Meet Outstanding Event

By BETTY ALDEN

THE CHILL November wind, which is part and parcel of the fall hunting season, was looking at the Myopia race meet Saturday afternoon . . . and the balmy weather provided hunting devotees with a day made to order for spectating . . . The North Shore race and hunt meets are usually so typically English . . . with the spectators standing around in the cold stamping their feet and turning up the collars of their heavy tweeds and ulsters . . . that it was a surprise to see the colorful gathering looking more like the gallery at a midsummer horse show than the spectators at a hunt.

Hundreds gathered to see the thrilling steeplechase races on the Dedden Palmer estate in Hamilton, and the throng in the park to you and me of the drag hunt which will be up at Manor Francis Cole's with a tea party for all concerned . . . It was an interesting afternoon for George Clement, who rode to victory in two races, first on his own horse, and then on W. S. Forbes' Patriot. George's cottage, with the former Anne Sartwell joined him for a long hunt, which included a number of humane riders, for whom the steeplechase races are of course, the least fun.

Dorothy Preston, who wants four or five days a week, was perfectly content in a side saddle hunt . . . her silk bowler tied on with a laced veil . . . and a few of the other huntresses included Kay Winton, Anne Ayer, Mrs. Gilbert Stead, Mrs. Gardner Fiske, Mrs. George Clement and Mrs. Charles S. Bird, Jr. . . .

Two future Myopia huntmen David and Christopher Bird attracted as much attention as the pink coated riders, for they wore identical hunter's pink jackets over their tan shorts . . . They are the nine-year-old twins of the O. S. Bird household . . . Tomorrow Mrs. Oliver Wolcott and a frisky terrier about as big as the proceedings, while Mrs. Edward MacNichol received many compliments for her beautiful suit of dubonnet and . . . even her little brother Gordon was made of the same stuff . . . Mrs. William Elliott, Mrs. James Sullivan, Mrs. Richard Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Treat Paine and Mrs. Paine were among the many spectators . . .

Miss Dunham attended the steeplechase of the hunt season and got into the back of the car to see the races . . . using her seat instead of hounds to get a better view . . . little quire in the measurement of the steeplechase and the hunt and the steeplechase . . .

Hound Trails and Hunter Trails Wednesday

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE . . . were down from Dedden to see the races and remain at the Myopians of the New England Championship Hunt and Trail and Hunter Trails next Wednesday at Foxcroft Park in Dedden . . . Real hunting devotees need not wonder of the day when the hunt is the outstanding meet of the year, with the best hunters in New England shown from among the best of the seven hunting hounds . . .

The Hound Trails will begin Wednesday morning at 9:30 followed by the best of the hounds which will be judged by William P. Wolcott, Charles W. Wolcott and Amory Colledge . . . At 11, Mrs. Robert H. Wolcott and S. Bird George T. Wolcott and William B. Amory will judge the hunter trails for conformation, style, action and manners on the flat . . . There will be a luncheon for everyone at 12:15 before the start of the hound trails in the afternoon . . .

"The DOCTOR" by MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Dr. Arden Performs First Operation

CHAPTER 13

It was next day after Christmas that Dr. Chris Arden went again to see Jake's widow, and to feel bitterly that Staunton Lewis had raised still another barrier between Beverly and himself. For Rachel told him that the case with the traction company had already been settled, and he stared at her with blank eyes.

"Settled?"

"Yes, Doctor. There was a man here early yesterday morning. And I needed the money."

"How much did you get?"

"Five hundred dollars."

And as clearly as if he had been present he saw Staunton Lewis leaving him in the hall two nights before and not going up the stairs. Going back instead to that library of his, and closing the door so that he could telephone. Telephone and settle for five hundred dollars.

He looked around the empty shop, where a black cloth covered the empty cage. Then with anger almost choking him he went out again.

He made no attempt to see Kate during the week that followed. Friday he was busy. Christmas Eve he thought he had to the city. Men had been drunk and at all their faults, and children were sick of cheap candies. There was an epidemic of little boys now coming in with the New Year. You get a little boy now to a girl. And you, day after day, to get through this.

He would push his feet on the edge of the bed and sleep between these pages. The day after that he would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand.

He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand.

He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand.

He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand.

He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand.

He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand.

He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand.

He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand. He would read the book and sleep with a book in his hand.

"WE'RE READY, DOCTOR," Head Nurse Clarke informed Chris Arden. The operating room resembled a stage set, with figures scattered here and there, and the physician, like the star actor, making his entrance.

He took until he reached the hospital. Then suddenly he was here. He was back home, and the hospital reached out and welcomed him in the office when he checked in. He was home.

The first operation had been scheduled for ten o'clock and it was almost that now. He felt a little nervous, but he was ready.

William Powell and M-G-M Bury Hatchet; Star Signs

Rachel Field Novel Bought For Bette Davis

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor, International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 7.—William Powell and M-G-M buried the hatchet and signed a new contract after over a year of wrangling on both sides.

Bill who was very ill and is now well, didn't want to sign until he was sure of the terms of his latest contract. He also was not willing to make more than three pictures a year because of his American front.

A trade official says that Powell, now 37, is a good deal out of the picture. He got his first film, "The Sign of the Cross," and Myrna Loy would have been another movie father for Nick. Nick, remember, is the detective film producer and the creation of Dashiell Hammett's fertile brain.

Rachel Field's "All This and Heaven Too" has been bought for Bette Davis at a compromise price of $250,000. The asking price was originally $750,000.

Talking of movie prices, Jed Rindell Harris flew into town for a four-day visit with Warner, M-G-M and John Stahl on the screen rights to the Thornton Wilder play "Our Town," which started at the Graven in Metro buys it, it will be for Lionel Barrymore.

Racing... THE SALVATION OF THE AMERICAN THOROUGHBRED!

THE horse, on our city and village streets, has been replaced for the most part by automobile and motor truck. The tractor, to a large extent, now ploughs and reaps.

Racing and breeding for racing have been for some time the salvation and support of our American horse.

There is hardly a State in the Union today, which does not have its stock farms and private individuals devoting themselves to the perpetuation of the Thoroughbred horse.

Since racing came to us in 1935 several Massachusetts farms have become intensely interested, and this year, Massachusetts-bred horses won a substantial number of races. To encourage local breeding a bonus of $250.00 is given to local breeders, in addition to purse money.

By voting "YES" on REFERENDUM NUMBER 4 on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, you will contribute your support to the American Thoroughbred and as well, maintain a substantial source of employment, assistance for aged citizens, and taxes for the County and Commonwealth at a time when all are urgently needed.

Revenue from Suffolk Downs proportionately assists all other cities and towns in the Commonwealth*

Amateur Boxing Off
for a New High

All-America Bouts
at Arena Tonight

By JACK CONWAY

HEARST ALL-AMERICA amateur boxing trials at the Arena tonight! . . . Don't miss them! . . . Bouts in ten classes! . . . Eight open classes, and two for novices . . . Action from 8 p. m. until midnight! . . . At popular prices of 55 cents and $1.10 . . . For the last two years the Hearst All-America bouts have been the top boxing offering in Boston . . .

Mr. Boston

A year ago 50,000 sat in at these thrilling ring battles . . . Taking a peek at the entries for this year's show I can assure you that a new high mark will be set for boxing class and rugged fighting.

There are more and better amateur boxers this season . . . I have been amazed at the remarkable form displayed by some of the youngsters . . . I will be at the Arena tonight as I know I am going to see a swell show . . . Be this grand fistic party being conducted by the Boston Evening American-Sunday Advertiser with the co-operation of the Irish American A. A.

Carnegie Tech Furnishes Chief Surprise

CARNEGIE TECH'S victory over Pitt was the chief surprise of Saturday's amazing day of football . . . As Notre Dame has beaten Carnegie Tech, the Irish are once more very much in the football limelight . . . Only a missed goal after touchdown prevented Holy Cross from playing a tie game with Carnegie Tech . . . Pitt was a heavy favorite to win Saturday, but after the first period was forced to trail its rival.

As repeatedly pointed out in this column, Dick Harlow football teams keep getting better as the season rolls along . . . The Crimson's smashing victory over Chicago was proof of this fact . . . Look out Yale! . . . Graduate Manager John Curley of Boston College was one of the happiest persons in Fenway Park when the Eagles turned back Indiana . . . Curley was elated at the Boston College win, and else by the large crowd.

Boston College was able to pay Indiana's $15,000 guarantee, rental of the park, other expenses and end up with a profit . . . Curley went after a major football game, and made his huge gridiron party a success . . . Bill McCarthy, Tom Yawkey's director of football, believes that the success of the Boston College-Indiana game will encourage college authorities in going after a big league attraction.

Casey Family Says Hello

I WAS READING football news when Steve Casey, world's heavyweight champion wrestler, and his brothers, Tom and Jim, dropped into this office . . . Since showing in Boston the trio has done some wrestling in New York State and in Connecticut . . . The Caseys make an imposing looking family group.

"If I were going into action against the Caseys, I would insist upon having a machine gun," I told Steve.

"I guess you would need it," replied the mat champion, "Jim and Tom are pretty tough, while we have two more brothers in Ireland, Pat and Mike."

"You'll be getting your father to join your side if I don't call a halt somewhere," I said.

"Sure, my father could help," declared Steve. "Like his sons, my father is a six-footer and weighs more than 200 pounds . . . Maybe the Caseys could even over-power a machine gun."

Steve says he thinks his brothers Tom and Jim would make good boxers.

"The heavyweight boxing division is lacking in suitable attractions," said Steve . . . "This is why Joe Louis is having such an easy time of it . . . Hear, Farr and most of the other challengers are old . . . I like Bob Pastor . . . He is a good boxer, and hits well . . . John Henry Lewis is a top boxer, but he will be giving away too much weight to Joe Louis when they meet in New York on January 27."

"I would like to see one of my brothers develop as a real title contender . . . Personally I believe I could beat Louis in a mixed match, but I know he will never meet me . . . A champion boxer could never defeat a leading wrestler . . . The wrestler would only have to tackle the boxer, and knock him from his feet to pave the way for a win."

The Caseys are going to tour the West in wrestling bouts.

"When we return, Tom and Jim may do a little boxing," said Steve.

Random Shots at Target

AL MCCOY clashes with Bob Olin in a 10-round bout in a Montreal ring tonight . . . McCoy knocked out Shanks, Toronto heavyweight, in his last appearance in Montreal, and is confident he will win from Olin . . . Harvard will have a soft touch in Virginia at the Stadium on Saturday . . . Boston College and Boston University should attract a large crowd when they play at Fenway Park on Armistice Day . . . Pat Hanley expects to be able to muster his full strength for the clash with Gil Dobie's team.

'Insiders' Clean Up On Pitt Defeat

Football Pools Real Victors Over Week-End

By BILL GRIMES

With Carnegie Tech knocking off Pitt, Southern Cal beating California, Yale topping Brown, Lafayette nailing out Penn State, Rutgers nipping Princeton, Purdue surprising Ohio State, Wisconsin winning over Northwestern and Norwich leading Lowell Textile under the wire, the football pool "racketeers" must have made a clean up over the week-end.

In most quarters, the Carnegie Tech win over the Panthers is rated as an upset but it is a well known fact that Pitt hasn't its usual replacements and that when it was learned that Marshall Goldberg would not be able to weather 90 minutes of play against the Scots, the short ends and the "racketeers" made a clean up.

Since the second game of the season, the University of Southern California has been capitalizing on its defeat by the Bruins, going into Saturday's game, California had the call over Howard Jones' boys and was under the impression that a trip to L. A. would help acclimate its players for the Rose Bowl classic. But, California will spend New Years in Berkeley listening over the radio to the Trojans Tennessee tilt. Or will it be Duke that takes over the assignment?

Brown made the fatal mistake of trying to protect a slight lead over the Elis. Yale is a poor eleven this season but still it has the old fight for which the Blue has been famous for decades, while Princeton apparently didn't take Rutgers seriously and the Scarlet popped up with a 20 to 18 victory.

PENN STATE OUT

A week ago, Penn State made the "front page" by beating Syracuse. Today, the Orange and Blue is back on the classified "ad" page, for taking a 7 to 6 whack on the chin from Lafayette, while Purdue and Wisconsin stole the "Big Ten" headline by beating Ohio State and Northwestern, respectively.

And, Norwich University was heard from for the first time this fall by virtue of its surprising victory over Lowell Tech.

As the college elevens swing into the home stretch, Dartmouth and Santa Clara are the only elevens that have retained their 1937 standing. The Big Green needs but a victory over Cornell to successfully defend its Ivy League title, while Santa Clara has won 22 out of its last 23 games.

There is a mad scramble going on in the "Big Ten" which Minnesota had all tied up for some years. Every member of the Mid-Western Conference lost at least one game and it's going to take a C. P. A. to figure up the ultimate winner. Down in the Southern Conference, Duke has knocked North Carolina off the rung and it looks like the Blue Devils will go through to the title, while Tennessee has the call over the other Southeastern Conference contenders. And, out in the Big Six, Oklahoma and Iowa State have gained up on Nebraska, the 1937 title holders and Texas Christian is the topnotch eleven in the Southwest-ern Conference.

Dartmouth, Notre Dame, Duke, T. C. U., Santa Clara, Georgetown, Villanova, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Iowa State, St. Anselm and Worcester Poly are still in the undefeated and untied class, while Boston College and Amherst have not met with a setback although the former was tied by Temple and the latter by Springfield.

"Harvard's O. K." CLARK SHAUGHNESSY

Leemans Hero in Giant Grid Win

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (AP)—Just as it would have been done in the movies, Tufty Leemans went crashing through right guard in the last minute of the game to give the New York Giants a 6 to 0 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals. The crowd of 20,000 which braved a drizzling rain was expecting a scoreless tie when John (Rull) Karcis, former Carnegie Tech fullback, intercepted a Chicago pass on his own 30 and rushed 4 yards to set up the Giants' scoring opportunity.

Virginia Soft Foe for Crimson

Harvard gets a breather in Virginia next Saturday.

It's a chance for the Crimson to relax before tackling Yale the following Saturday at New Haven.

So convincing has been the showing of the Harvards in its triumphs over Princeton and Chicago on successive weekends, that the experts now have installed Harvard a decided favorite to take the Elis and to win the "Big Three" championship for the second year running.

The Crimson has come a long, long way in the past few weeks. Clark Shaughnessy, coach of the Chicago Maroons, told interviewers after Saturday's Harvard win, that the Crimson could hold it own with any Big Ten Conference team.

This present Harvard team, on the strength of its recent showings, with its fight and its cleverly conceived attack, has all the earmarks of brilliance.
